Moran Selects Katie Baldwin of Concordia for Internship

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Congressman Jerry Moran today announced that Katie Baldwin of Concordia is a Congressional intern in his Washington, D.C. office.

"The internship program is a good opportunity for young people like Katie to get a better understanding of the federal government," Moran said. "Katie has an excellent record of academics and activities, and I am happy to have her working on behalf of Kansans."

A native of Concordia, Baldwin graduated from Concordia High School in 2002. She is now a sophomore in the School of International Service at American University in Washington, D.C. She is working towards a degree in international relations with a minor in Spanish and Latin American studies.

While at American, Baldwin is the president of the university academic quiz bowl team and is a part of the University Honors Program. She is also on the Dean's List and a member of the National Society of Collegiate Scholars. Following graduation, Baldwin plans to pursue a career in international relations.

"I am grateful that Congressman Moran has given me this opportunity to work for the people of Kansas," Baldwin said. "I am looking forward to learning more about our national government and applying that knowledge toward my future career."

In the office, Baldwin will assist Congressman Moran and his staff with legislative and administrative duties on behalf of the people of Kansas' First Congressional District.

Katie is the daughter of Gary and Mary Baldwin of Concordia.
